ATREA s.r.o. is a leading manufacturer of heat recovery warm air heating and ventilation systems and ventilation units.

Since its foundation in 1990 ATREA s.r.o. has been relying on the years of experience in the field of microclimate in buildings, focusing on gaining heat from exhaust air (heat recovery). The company's professional attitude and experience have also helped it to become greatly successful on the markets of West Europe.

ATREA s.r.o. prefers comprehensive and systemic solutions and therefore offers a wide range of services from designing the energy concept of a building to the development and production of the related equipment to the installation and servicing of components supplied.

ATREA s.r.o. pays special attention to the installation of the new generation of low-energy and energy-passive houses where it has broad experience. Floor grilles are visible end components of 200 x 50 or 160 x 40 floor ducts used for warm air heating and heat recovery ventilation in houses and flats. With their impressive design the floor grilles are suitable for all kinds of interior and all types of flooring and go especially well with laminate floor in natural colour tones. Their simplicity makes them a popular choice particularly in interiors fitted with modern furniture.

IMPORTANT:

The colour finishes shown here are limited by printing possibilities and may therefore differ from the actual colour of floor grilles.

We continuously strive to improve our floor grilles and as a result reserve the right to amend the specifications and the right to modify or discontinue any colour or wood finish without prior notice. We have done our best to ensure that the details contained in this catalogue are up-to-date at the time of print; however, we reserve the right of deviations and printing errors.
